

Pratt Institute
Student Affairs Division
Mission Statement
2013

The Student Affairs division includes the Office of the Vice President and the departments of Athletics and Recreation, Campus Ministry; Career and Professional Development; the Disability Resource Center; International Affairs; Health and Counseling Services; Residential Life and the Center for Student Involvement and Parent and Family Programs. The Vice President's office adjudicates human rights complaints and offers a variety of ombudsperson services.

As a partner in the academic enterprise, the Student Affairs Division:

- Provides programs and services that promote student personal and professional development;
- Fosters a campus environment that is conducive to student learning;
- Advocates for and supports students as they meet the challenges of the Pratt experience

Enduring Goals:

- Provide leadership to the institute community in the enhancement and coordination of all campus co-curricular experiences
- Build a stronger sense of community by increasing student satisfaction with the Pratt experience; Develop programs and services that increase Family/parent satisfaction.
- Provide opportunities for students to be responsible, active participants of the Pratt community; expand and promote opportunities for students to develop leadership skills
- Provide experiences that will help students to think critically and make effective and socially responsible decisions and lifestyle choices
- Cultivate an environment that celebrates and supports diverse cultures; provide students with experiences that expand their world view.
- Continue to advocate for improved facilities to meet student needs. Including, but not limited to the building of a new student union, improvement of campus residence halls, and the creation and improvement of community gathering and recreational spaces
- Continuously explore avenues to make our services and programs more accessible through the effective use of technology and innovative approaches to communication.
- Integrate assessment into all student affairs programs and services

Pratt Institute
Student Affairs Division
Vision Statement
2017

The Division of Student Affairs creates a culture characterized by innovative and engaging learning experiences. We encourage personal growth and intellectual development, challenging students to take responsibility for a balanced approach to well being. The Division provides leadership for a diverse community that rises to the challenges of a global society.