Reasons Your Financial Aid May Change

Aid eligibility is not fixed. The following situations may alter your financial aid. Contact your financial aid counselor with questions.

Additional Financial Aid

Notify us if you receive additional aid, such as private scholarships, fee waivers, employee educational benefits, vocational rehabilitation, etc.

Verification

We are required to verify FAFSA data and may ask you to submit documents such as tax information. Changes to your FAFSA information could result in changes to your financial aid package.

Course Enrollment

Enrolling in fewer than 12 credit hours or in a self-paced course may reduce your aid. Pell Grant recipients must be able to document attendance.

Special Circumstances

Let your financial aid counselor know if you experience a sudden change in income or expenses. We may be able to reassess your family's aid eligibility due to loss of income, divorce, death in the family, layoff, etc.

If you have questions, don't hesitate to contact us sfs@pratt.edu
