

Pratt School of Information

Brooklyn Public Library

Fellowship in Children's and Young Adult Library Services 2024-2025

Fellowship Information

This Fellowship is for MSLIS students who plan to work in children's and young adult services at the public library.

The Fellowship offers the opportunity to gain hands-on experience in children's and young adult services at the Brooklyn Public Library, a leader in traditional and innovative library services that reflect the dynamism of diverse communities.

Specific projects and activities will be determined at the start of the fellowship but may include tasks such as the design and implementation of programming for children and youth, collection appraisal and preparation of readers' advisory resources, and community outreach and library advocacy. Projects and activities will align with ALSC and YALSA core competencies for librarians serving children and youth.

Fellows will work at Brooklyn Public Library's Central Library Youth Wing (10 Grand Army Plaza), under the supervision of children's and young adult services librarians.

Here are some details about this Fellowship:

- The Fellowship includes a tuition scholarship in the amount of $7,730
- Fellows are expected to carry-out two semester internships, requiring 120 hours per semester of on-site work at the partner institution, in children's and young adult services.
- During the Fellowship, Fellows must register for a course in the Learning, Literacies, and Communities concentration
- Fellows are required to either present their Fellowship project at the School of Information's #infoshow at the end of the Spring semester or register for INFO 698 Practicum/Seminar.

The Fellow will be selected and supervised by Brooklyn Public Library staff. Fellows will receive official notification in April 2024. Please note that continuing the Fellowship through the second semester is contingent upon review of the Fellow's performance during the Fall semester by Brooklyn Public Library staff.
